LOMOND, ALBERTA. FRIDAY, MAR. 24. 1922

$1.00 PER YEAR

EXPLANATION - The Lomond Press has not been published for several weeks owing to an enforced absence of the Editor under a diphtheria quarantine. A good many things have happened that we have not been able to get track of and also some have lost all their value by now. What can be recovered from the accumulated heap will be assimilated in this and subsequent issues and we sincerely hope that this ends all our experience with quarantine and anything whereby such measures are made necessary.

Lomond is again free from diphtheria, at least all the families that were under quarantine have been allowed their freedom. The Dilley family were out a week ago, the Editor and his family were fumigated on Tuesday, while the Parson and his family got their dose on Thursday. It is very fortunate that the disease spread no further and no doubt the precautions taken in protection of the general public were of a nature to prove effective.

(Since the above was written a new case has developed. Mrs. Jas. Henderson is the victim and the family is under quarantine.)

The U. F. A. and U. F. W. A. are holding a concert and dance in Vickers Hall on Friday evening, March 31st.

If all reports are true the ratepayers in the Travers district are petitioning for another public meeting to discuss municipal affairs, the date urged being March 28th.

The annual convention of the Bow River District U. F. A. Association is slated to take place at Travers on Saturday, April 1st.

The death occurred in Calgary on March 15th of Mrs. J. P. Leonard, formerly a resident of Lomond. Deceased had undergone an operation for the removal of her tonsils about three weeks previous and while not making a speedy recovery was not considered in a serious condition. She collapsed without warning apparently from heart failure. Deceased's sister, Mrs. M. J. Leonard of Lomond, attended the funeral in Calgary held on March 17th. One child about two years of age survives, Mrs. M. J. Leonard bringing it to Lomond with her on her return.

A. R. Hanna has been appointed financial scribe for the Vulcan Encampment to accept dues from members resident at Lomond.

The Brunetta School District is calling a meeting of ratepayers and those resident upon lands lying between the north boundary of the school district and the lease, to discuss the amalgamation of the unorganized territory with the school district and the probable selection of a new site for the school building.

Conklin of Badger Lake, a son.

D. Williams was called to Rapid City, S. Dakota, by the serious illness of his father. A later message stated that his father has passed away before Mr. Williams reached Rapid City.

Mrs. Susannah Harmon, aged ninety years and four months, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. Williams, the immediate cause of death being apoplexy. The funeral was held on the Sunday following. The services were conducted by Rev. N. W. Whitmore of Bow City, as Rev. Forster was under quarantine at the time.

The annual ball given by the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs on the evening of St. Patrick's Day drew an attendance of about seventy couples. Harry Manning and Miss Marjorie Root provided the music, quite acceptably to all. A delightful supper was served at the tables daintily arranged in the Elliott, Argue & Co. hall.

Board of Trade Activities

On the evening of March 6th the Board of Trade held their fourth annual meeting in the Municipal Office at which there was a good turn out of business-like men from both the town and rural district. On account of circumstances over which they had no control some who have been among the most active members of the Board in the past, were unable to attend. However there was a good representative gathering chuck full of business and sociability. The first item of business taken up was the election of officers for the ensuing year. W. A. Teskey was re-elected to the office of President, L. H. Phillips was elected to the office of Vice President and H. E. Elves was re-elected to the office of Secretary Treasurer. The financial report of the secretary-treasurer was submitted. The same showing the Board's very satisfactory financial condition.

The past business activities of the Board were reviewed at some length and discussed very fully. The activities of the Board in the past go to show the lively interest taken by this body in the welfare of the whole community. The gist of the discussions and the suggestions offered for the future policy of the Board of Trade would indicate a general desire for the evolution of the Board of Trade into a Community Club, and it will be no great surprise if when the bumper crop of 1922 is marketed, provision is made for an up to date Community Hall, the absence of which and the inability to provide such a place under circumstances existing the last few years, being the only obstacle standing in the way of a good live community club in Lomond.

After considerable discussion upon some of the needs of this community, a motion was passed by the Board instructing the secretary to investigate the plans under which Government Demonstration Farms are established and maintained; it being thought that a great deal of good might be effected if we had an institution of this nature in this particular locality; it being recognized that many of the conditions existing in this district are altogether different from those at any point in either the Province or the Dominion at which a demonstration or experimental farm is situated. If the plans upon which demonstration farms are inaugurated and maintained appear satisfactory and beneficial after thorough investigation, the Board of Trade hopes to have the co-operation of all the other organized bodies in placing this necessity before the proper authorities and urging for our requirements.

It was decided at this meeting to give a banquet at some future date in honour of the members of the District G. W. V. A. and all returned war veterans in our community, as an appreciation of these boys in our district and of the services and sacrifices they gave for King and Country in the Great World War. Many other matters of interest were discussed in a general way, laying plans for future activities etc. The Board of Trade is away to a good start for 1922 with the largest membership yet enrolled in any year since its inception, and every member chuck full of enthusiasm. The regular meeting nights were set for the first Monday evening in each month and a cordial invitation was extended to the public to come to the meetings and help the good work along.

COMMUNICATION

The columns of this paper are open to the public. Articles published under the above heading are printed without prejudice as far as The Press is concerned and responsibility for statements rests entirely upon the authors.

Owing to the absence of nearby hospital accommodation The Press, after according Mr. Rogers a free hand to reply to this communication, must insist that future writings be free from expressions of a personal nature. At the same time a free discussion of all public topics is urgently invited when conducted upon the merits of the topics themselves.—Ed.

Travers, Alta., Feb. 28th 1922.
The Editor,
Lomond Press,
Lomond, Alta.,

Dear Sir:—

I should greatly like to come forward once more with a display of ignorance in reply to Mr. Rogers' grammatical, rhetorical letter of Feb. 4th, in which he has shown so much wisdom and intelligence. Here I must use the interrogation mark (?)

I imagined I could hear Mr. Rogers bawl when I was feeding him and systemizing in my dream, but that was nothing compared to the roar he gave when I began to feed it to him through the Press. It must be very heating because he appeared to be very hot when he wrote that letter. They say "what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander," so if this systemizing sauce does not hurt the ratepayer it ought not do the Reeve any harm.

Mr. Rogers says I misquote him, that he did not use the words "neighbours" nor "taxes". He says he wishes to refute that statement. It is a wonder to me he did not refute the word "systemize". I may be hard of hearing or may be another Rip Van Winkle and have been asleep for the last 30 years but there is nothing wrong with my throat and I am not liable to swallow a pill of this systemizing dope quite so large as that. He says the Alberta Survey Board will bear him out. Now, what in the name of common sense does the Survey Board know about what Mr. Rogers said in the meeting at Travers? I suppose he thinks they are mind readers. The way the Old Boy "took the hook" when I threw the well deal at him. He starts out giving facts, but he does not give all the facts, however he admits the council were petitioned to open the road and also to purchase the well.

Right here let me ask Mr. Rogers why he did not have his council get a petition before they engaged this $1000.00 doctor? I should think his Golden Calf in Lomond could have done that for him. This is another sweetperfumed dose the ratepayers of this municipal district have to take to gratify the grudge of two or three soreheads. There has been four miles of road opened in the southern part of this municipal district to something like sixteen, or possibly more in the north, I helped them get the road in the north and also worked to get the well and road in the south. That I am not ashamed of. But I am ashamed of any intelligent man accepting an office under the banner of economy and democracy who has not the sense of honor to carry out the obligations of the late officials.

Mr. Rogers now tells us a funny little story about a southern nigger. However, it is this "systemizing bird" we are interested in and not the nigger. This beautiful, sweet tempered, and intelligent bird, who thinks he would be economizing if he could pay our funeral expenses in place of forever doling out charity.

Now, Mr. Editor, hoping this will give my old bird something to peck on for a while. I remain,
As ignorant as ever,

James J. Marshall.

Standard Bank of Canada Reports Strong Position

General Business of Bank Well Maintained---Policy Has Been Followed of Making Large Additions to Reserve and Contingent Accounts---Reserve Fund Now Stands at $5,000,000 and Paid-up Capital $4,000,000.

The strong position occupied by the Standard Bank of Canada is strikingly reflected by the manner in which it has been able to meet the changed conditions that prevailed in Canada during the past fiscal year.

General business was well maintained and profits were well up to the level of the previous year. As a result, the bank has continued its policy of adding steadily to its reserves and contingent account. The reserve now stands at $5,000,000 as against a paid-up capital of $4,000,000.

The ample profits also allowed of the payment of the usual dividends at the rate of 14 per cent, and after the appropriations to reserve and contingent funds, permitted of a balance being carried forward into the new year of $112,492. These profits, which computed after deducting expenses, interest accrued on deposits, rebate for interest on unmatured bills, Provincial taxes and making provision for bad and doubtful debts, amounted to $725,014. The balance carried forward from the previous year amounted to $378,014 and there was received from premium on new stock issued $148,499, making the total amount available for distribution $1,251,527. Of this amount, there was paid in dividends at the rate of 14 per cent $535,115, war tax on note circulation $30,549, Reserve for Dominion income tax, $20,000; contributed to Officers' Pension Fund, $25,000; transferred to reserve fund, $200,000; transferred to contingent account $300,000; balance carried forward, $112,492.

The outstanding feature of the general statement of assets and liabilities as of January 31st is the strength of the bank's liquid position. Of total assets of $83,293,001, the liquid, or immediately available assets amount to $45,871,838. Of this amount actual cash on hand and Dominion notes and deposit in central gold reserve total $13,279,803, cheques on other banks $5,151,513, balances due by banks and banking correspondents, elsewhere than in Canada, $1,109,437; Canadian municipal securities, and British, foreign and colonial public securities, other than Canadian, $2,843,043; railway and other bonds, $1,202,475, call and short loans, $2,809,200, and a particularly pleasing item is the large holdings of Dominion and Provincial Government securities amounting to $9,020,521.

In a year of lessened industrial and commercial activity a smaller volume of current loans was to be expected. Current loans and discounts in Canada which represent the general business of the Bank amount to $45,000,127, a reduction of $5,000,000 from the previous year, and which is in harmony with altered conditions and is an index to the general slackening of business throughout the country.

At the same time the general deposits of the bank have been well maintained. Deposits bearing interest stand at $51,000,455, as compared with $53,011,007 at the end of the previous year, and deposits not bearing interest at $13,211,200, against $14,377,712, making total deposits of $65,120,710, as against $67,389,710, a reduction of only about $2,000,000. This decrease is equal to only about 3 per cent., and would seem to indicate just how well the deposits of the bank are distributed throughout the country.

The shareholders of the bank should be particularly gratified with the showing which has made it possible to not only continue the ample dividends, but also to make such handsome contributions to Reserve and Contingent Funds.

It should also prove especially reassuring to depositors that at a time like the present such a large proportion of the Bank's assets are in liquid form and invested in such high grade securities.

As for his argument on the Russian relief topic, we can but refer him to various religious organization. Innumerable appointments are maintained by mission funds, yet these people are always exhorted to respond to the general missionary appeal. "The quality of charity should not be strained."

There are a few Bolshevik sympathizers around Travers and one or two of them have attempted to convert the editor, but their influence would have little effect upon either the Red Cross Society or the Russian Relief Fund even should they become well organized.

February 24th., 1922.

Dear Mrs. Mitchell:—

I enclose for your information copy of an anonymous letter which I received yesterday, together with newspaper cutting. You will note that the writer takes the stand, which I believe is justified, that if people can get together and raise money for relief to send to Russia they should be able to assist themselves rather than rely upon the Red Cross and the Provincial Government to furnish relief.

Would you be good enough to bring this to the attention of your people at Lomond and let me have some report on the situation and on the loyal feeling in regard to it because it is almost sure to be brought to our attention again.

Yours faithfully,
(Signed) Mary C. Waagen,

Hon. Secretary,

Dear Mrs. Waagen:—

Just a few lines to say that we people in the North are getting tired of sending relief to people around Lomond, Travers and Badger Lake, because we see by the Lomond Press that they have plenty and they are collecting money to send to the Russian Relief Fund. Just read the enclosed clipping and see for yourself.

Yours truly,

"An Observer."

Copy of clipping from Friday Jan., 27, 1922, Travers Localities.

The masquerade dance held in Travers was well attended, every one present having a good time. The costumes were well thought out and kept the judges guessing. Miss Evelyn Seebach took the ladies prize as "Topsy" and Mrs. F. Way took the gentleman's as a "Dutchman".

The dance held in the U.F.A. Hall on the 25th inst. in aid of the Russian Relief Fund was very well attended, the music was good and all present had a most enjoyable time. In the course of the night Miss Fraser gave six dances this talented artist holds several medals for her proficiency in this art.

Fred Vanholm Dies

Fred Vanholm, a pioneer resident of the Travers district, died very suddenly from uremic poisoning as a climax to a case of chronic brights disease. Deceased was in Travers on Thursday evening, going home about ten o'clock. He collapsed upon entering his house and did not regain consciousness. The funeral was held on Monday.

THE END OF A PERFECT JAY

There was a little man
And he had a little match,
And the fire was still glowing
In its head, head head;
He dropped it in the wood,
Among the leaves just where he stood
To light his pipe before he camped
And made his bed, bed, bed,
(And you must admit he didn't
Use his head, head, head.)

Soon this careless little man—
Defend him if you can—
Found the forest all about him
Blazing red, red, red;
He ran to the brook—
But he wasn't any duck,
And he floated to the bottom
Quick as lead, lead, lead.
(When the forest ranger got him
He was dead, VERY DEAD.)
—E. H. Byshe, Dominion Forest Service.

Trouble in the Travers Red Cross Camp

The distribution of Red Cross relief at Travers became very much disorganized through the interference an anonymous "Observer" claiming to harbor his unworthy carcass in that land of generosity known as Northern Alberta. He apparently shovels Lomond, Travers and Badger Lake into the category of one big soup kitchen that is being supported entirely by the two-bits he and a couple of his pals contributed in order to enjoy the privilege of wearing a Red Cross button. Red Cross work has filled with sunshine a great many unfortunate homes in the South this year but the success of the enterprise is in a great measure due to those immediately connected with the distribution work. The generosity of the north is amply appreciated just so long as it is forthcoming without reservations as imposed by "Observer."

It's to be a Bumper ---or Final Bump

There is a tone of subdued optimism noticed among the farmers now that spring is approaching and all weather prophets are holding out golden hopes oodles of rain. Everyone is fairly itching to "get on the land". The distribution of government fodder is pretty badly balled up through the non-arrival of hay and the horses must of necessity continue to subsist on Russian thistles. If the farmers could pile up mileage charges against the relief department there would be necessary another two-cent tax on gasoline. When one takes into consideration the warning given the government last August, there appears to be something lacking in the matter of administration. May Providence bring a change in conditions so that the growing generation will never experience such a thing as "government relief"—with emphasis on the relief.

Spare the Milk and Spoil the Child

Every family in Canada is vitally concerned in its main food supplies. Among them milk and milk products are as indispensable in the diet of both child and adult as is bread itself. Referring to child nutrition, Dr. A. J. myot, Deputy Minister of Health, recently made the statement that "there are many under-mentioned or improperly fed children in this country, whose condition both physical and mental, would be greatly improved by the more liberal use of milk in the diet."

In a pamphlet just issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, entitled "Why and How to Use Milk", of which Miss H. C. Campbell of the Dairy Branch is the author, it is stated that milk contains all the requirements for the growth and repair of the body. Milk contains protein from which to build new cells and repairs worn-out tissues. It contains fat and sugar, which serve as a source of heat and energy for muscular activity, and mineral matter, which has a regulative effect and enters into the composition of the body, especially as regards the bones and teeth. The deficiencies of other foods are counterbalanced by milk in the diet. When milk is served with cereal, with bread, or other food made from grains, not only are the nutrients in milk used, but much other protein is contained for body uses which would otherwise be wasted. Butter for which there is no real substitute as a beneficial food, is made from cream and cream is whole milk with a large percentage of that soluble fat without which the normal growth and development of the body or of the mental powers are impossible. All the good of milk is not taken off with the cream, far from it. It still contains the protein, mineral matter and vitamins necessary to build bone and make blood. Nor is the food value of milk destroyed when it sours. Made into cottage cheese one pound contains as much as a pound of meat, and who can deny the deliciousness of sour-milk biscuits and griddle cakes? Butter-milk has a food value equal to that of skim milk or sour milk, is easily digested and is delightfully refreshing to drink. Condensed milk is useful where fresh milk is not obtainable, but is not suitable as a permanent diet for babies. Evaporated milk will keep indefinitely if sealed, but when uncovered should be used as quickly as fresh milk. If given to children, fresh fruit juice should be added to the diet.

One particularly interesting piece of information in Miss Campbell's pamphlet is a description of the manner in which milk can be pasteurized at home, thus being freed of any possible obnoxious germs, with practically no expense and with only a modicum of trouble. People who regard ice cream as a luxury are mistaken, it is a real food. In conclusion it may be stated that forty-nine recipes are given in the bulletin referred to for making delicious dishes, in all of which milk is the principal or most important ingredient.
